Important Information about Updating to the 2018 KC titles posted after July 2018

Beginning with the 2018 KBA Commercial title, there are significant changes to the KBA 40X ALC series workpapers that firms should review prior to content update through roll forward or Update Knowledge Coach Workpapers. Many of the activity controls have changed and will automatically reset on content update. Therefore, if you do plan to use the update knowledge coach content feature, consider publishing these workpapers before you update and re-evaluate your responses to the changed content. These changes were made to better describe true control objectives as opposed to control activities. We feel these changes make the tools more closely align with how internal control environments work and therefore easier to use and understand.

Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (ASC 105)
Deleted	Note: The transition disclosures for adoption of a new accounting standard in items 1 and 2 below are required by. The amendments in represent changes to clarify the Codification, correct unintended application of guidance, or make minor improvements to the Codification that are not expected to have a significant effect on current accounting practice. In addition, some of the amendments are intended to make the Codification easier to understand and easier to apply by eliminating inconsistencies, providing needed clarifications, and improving the presentation of guidance in the Codification. Transition guidance varies based on the amendments. The amendments that require transition guidance are effective for all entities for fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning after December 15, 2015. Early adoption is permitted, including adoption in an interim period. All other amendments were effective upon issuance of the ASU (i.e., June 12, 2015). 1. Has the cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle, if any, resulting from the amendments in Accounting Standards Update No. 2015-10, Technical Corrections and Improvements, been presented separately and recognized as an adjustment to the opening balance of retained earnings (or other appropriate components of equity or net assets in the balance sheet) for the period of adoption? (Note: The cumulative-effect adjustment is the difference between the amounts recognized in the balance sheet before initial application of the applicable amendments and the amounts recognized in the balance sheet at initial application of the applicable amendments.) (ASC 105-10-65-23)

Presentation of Financial Statements (ASC 205) Going Concern
Deleted	Note: The presentation and disclosure requirements in items 1 through 6 below are prescribed by ASU No. 2014-15, Presentation of Financial Statements—Going Concern (Subtopic 205-40): Disclosure of Uncertainties about an Entity’s Ability to Continue as a Going Concern. These presentation and disclosure requirements are effective for annual periods ending after December 15, 2016, and interim periods within annual periods beginning after December 15, 2016. Early adoption is permitted for annual or interim reporting periods for which the financial statements have not previously been issued. (ASC 205-40-65-1) Prior to the issuance of ASU No. 2014-15, there was no guidance in U.S. GAAP about management’s responsibility to evaluate whether there is substantial doubt about an entity’s ability to continue as a going concern or to provide related disclosures in notes to financial statements. U.S. auditing standards and federal securities laws require that an auditor evaluate whether there is substantial doubt about an entity’s ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time not to exceed one year beyond the date of the financial statements being audited. Auditing standards also require auditors to consider the possible financial statement effects, including the adequacy of disclosures on uncertainties about the entity’s ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time pursuant to AU-C Section 570, The Auditor’s Consideration of an Entity’s Ability to Continue as a Going Concern, or the PCAOB’s AS 2415, Consideration of an Entity’s Ability to Continue as a Going Concern. The SEC also has guidance on disclosures that it expects from an entity when an auditor’s report includes an explanatory paragraph that reflects substantial doubt about an entity’s ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time (The Codification of Financial Reporting Policies, Section 607.02). Therefore, prior to the effective date of ASU No. 2014-15 and for entities that have not elected early adoption of ASU No. 2014-15, the disclosure requirements in items 7 and 8 below should be followed. 7. If the auditor concludes, after considering management’s plans, that there is substantial doubt about the entity’s ability to continue as a going concern for a period of time not to exceed one

For fair value hedges existing as of the date of adoption in which foreign exchange risk is the hedged risk or one of the hedged risks and a currency swap is the hedging instrument, an entity may, without dedesignation, modify its hedge documentation to exclude the cross-currency basis spread component of the currency swap from the assessment of hedge effectiveness and recognize the excluded component through an amortization approach. The cumulative effect of applying this election should be recognized as an adjustment to accumulated other comprehensive income with a corresponding adjustment to the opening balance of retained earnings as of the initial application date. d. For hedges existing as of the date of adoption that exclude a portion of the hedging instrument from the assessment of effectiveness, an entity may modify the recognition model for the excluded component from a mark-to-market approach to an amortization approach without dedesignation of the hedging relationship. The cumulative effect of applying this election should be recognized as an adjustment to accumulated other comprehensive income with a corresponding adjustment to the opening balance of retained earnings as of the initial application date. e. Leases (ASC 842) Overall
Added	The SEC staff would not object to a public business entity that otherwise would not meet the definition of a public business entity except for a requirement to include or the inclusion of its financial statements or financial information in another entity's filing with the SEC adopting ASC Topic 842 for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2019, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2020. Modified	An entity also may elect a practical expedient to not assess whether existing or expired land easements that were not previously accounted for as leases under ASC Topic 840 are or contain a lease under ASC Topic 842. For purposes of this item 5, a land easement (also commonly referred to as a right of way) refers to a right to use, access, or cross another entity's land for a specified purpose. This practical expedient should be applied consistently by an entity to all its existing and expired land easements that were not previously accounted for as leases under. This practical expedient may be elected separately or in conjunction with either one or both of the practical expedients in item items 4 and 6. An entity that elects this practical expedient for existing or expired land easements should apply ASC Topic 842 to land easements entered into (or modified) on or after the date that the entity first applies ASC Topic 842. An entity that previously accounted for existing or expired land easements as leases under ASC Topic 840 above is not eligible for this practical expedient for those land easements.
